The diagram shows two overlapping bell curves, one on the left and one on the right. The left curve is labeled 'P2-left' and the right curve is labeled 'P2-right'. A horizontal dashed line runs across the bottom of the curves. At the bottom center, below the dashed line, is the text 'P2 · tile 1/2 · 1x2'. There are four corner crop marks: top-left, top-right, bottom-left, and bottom-right.

S1-right
